Improve our public schools with repairs, reduction in class sizes, and hire more highly qualified teachers. • Environment: Throughout her career, Senator Boxer has fought to protect California's spectacular coast, mountains, deserts, rivers and forests to preserve them for future generations. • Health Care: Continues to work to ensure equal access to high-quality, affordable healthcare. Boxer and colleagues recently announced a new bill to advance Woman's health care—the 21st Century Women's Health Act. • Housing: Advocate for policies to keep families in their homes, to promote access to affordable housing and to ensure responsible lending practices and greater transparency. |  TERM First Elected: 1993 Term End: January 3, 2017 |

SPONSORED LEGISLATION:

Early Education Act: The act would create a competitive grant program for pre-kindergarten education throughout the country, expanding pre-kindergarten education to approximately 150,000 American children.

The DREAM Act: Senator Boxer co-sponsored the DREAM Act, which would help students from immigrant families by allowing states like California to determine the eligibility residency requirements for in-state tuition and admission to public colleges and universities.

The Pell Grant program helps students and their families who struggle with the high cost of a college education. Senator Boxer has consistently voted to increase Pell grants to help more low-income students afford college.

The Computer Donation Incentive Act: Technological advances like computers and the Internet have greatly expanded teachers' instructional capabilities and students' educational opportunities. To ensure that both students and teachers can take advantage of these tools, Senator Boxer wrote this Act that provided an increased tax deduction for companies that donate new and nearly-new computers to elementary and secondary schools for educational purposes.

ECONOMIC AND LABOR:

Senator Boxer understands that Californians and people across the country are struggling through this recession. She is working to strengthen California's economy and the nation's economy by leading efforts to create jobs, help small businesses compete and provide much-needed tax relief for middle-class families. She has also been a strong advocate for California businesses, promoting policies to help the state's agricultural, high-tech, biotechnology, entertainment companies succeed.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION:

Boxer graduated from Brooklyn College in New York with a B.A. in Economics and worked as a stockbroker before moving to California with her husband. During the 1970s, she worked as a journalist and served on the Marin County Board of Supervisors for six years and became the Board's first female president. She was elected to the House in 1982. In 1992, Boxer won the election for the U.S. Senate.

Immigration and Naturalization Investment Ventures for Engineering, Science, and Technology in America Act: Provides conditional permanent resident status for an alien entrepreneur (and spouse and children) who: (1) is in the process of completing, or has completed, a graduate level degree in science, technology, engineering, math or a related academic discipline from an accredited U.S. institute of higher education; (2) establishes a new commercial enterprise related to such study that meets specified employment and wage requirements; and (3) is admissible as an immigrant.

ECONOMIC AND LABOR: Schiff has always believed that small businesses have been the true engine of growth in challenging economic times and has been fighting to enact tax deductions for small businesses that can be used for start-up expenses, to eliminate payroll taxes for new hires, and to remove burdensome regulations. Schiff also believes that reestablishing America as a manufacturing powerhouse is crucial. Through these efforts, small businesses can begin growing and adding jobs again so that all Americans can enjoy a brighter, more prosperous future.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION: He received his B.A. from Stanford University and a J.D. from Harvard Law School. Throughout his tenure in Congress, Schiff has focused on improving our economy, bolstering national security, strengthening our communities, helping small businesses and improving education, safety and health care for our children. SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE

(VICE CHAIRMAN)

Senator, California | Democrat

PRIORITIES

- Jobs: Senator Feinstein believes Congress must do more to help create jobs that pay livable wages. She supports making critical investments to help create jobs and prepare workers for the 21st century economy, including offering incentives to businesses to hire new workers, providing funding for job-training programs, investing in our infrastructure and making higher education more affordable.
- Education: Education remains the primary tool to get a good-paying job and support a family. Senator Feinstein believes Washington must do more to improve the quality of K-12 education and increase the affordability of higher education.
- Veterans/Jobs: Senator Feinstein believes the country must do more to help veterans reintegrate into civilian life and find good-paying jobs. She supports providing opportunities for veterans to further their education and retrain after they leave military service, as well as incentivizing businesses to hire veterans.

TERM

First Elected: 1993

Term #: 4

Term End: January 3, 2019

SPONSORED LEGISLATION:

For years, the effort to establish housing for chronically homeless veterans on the VA's sprawling West Los Angeles campus has been painfully, shamefully slow, as mistrust and inertia have impeded progress at the same time that two wars have dramatically increased the need for action. Finally, there may be a chance for a breakthrough. A new piece of legislation, introduced by Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-Calif.), would clear the way for the Department of Veterans Affairs to enter into long-term lease agreements with developers and service providers to transform two vacant structures, known as Buildings 205 and 208, into housing with therapeutic services.

It's disturbing that anyone is homeless in the United States, and it's particularly disgraceful — as Feinstein noted in a statement — that so many military service veterans are homeless. An estimated 6,300 live in Los Angeles County, the largest concentration of homeless veterans in the country. The VA has said for years that it would renovate three buildings on its grounds to house the homeless. Work is currently underway on just one, Building 209.

This new legislation would jump-start the process for the other two buildings.

ECONOMIC AND LABOR:

The economy continues to struggle in the aftermath of the financial crisis of 2008. Unemployment remains stubbornly high, people are losing their homes to foreclosure and the price of gasoline is putting pressure on the budgets of already cash-strapped families. Additionally, the nation faces a mounting national debt that, if unaddressed, will weigh down future economic growth. The recent gains in employment over the previous months are simply not good enough. The economy must grow at a much more robust pace if the country is to meaningfully reduce unemployment and give working families the income security and confidence that will re-energize the economy. Similarly, better efforts must be made to balance the budget. An aging population and rising health care costs are the chief drivers of our long-term debt issues, facts that must be recognized and addressed. If they are not, the social safety net that has been carefully created and defended over decades will be threatened.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION:

Feinstein has a B.A. from Stanford University and was elected to the San Francisco County Board of Supervisors in 1969 and served 2 ½ terms as President of the Board. She became Mayor of San Francisco in November 1978. As Mayor, Dianne Feinstein managed the City's finances with a firm hand, balancing nine budgets in a row. In 1987, City and State Magazine named her the nation's "Most Effective Mayor." She has served as a U.S. Senator since 1992. She is married and has a daughter.

PRIORITIES

- Education: Education is the best investment for a strong economy and global competitiveness.
- Jobs & Economic Recovery: Clearly, this is the most important priority for our nation. We must spur economic development by investing in infrastructure and industry within the US as well as cutting taxes cuts for the poor and middle class
- Veterans: Uphold the pledge to leave no veterans behind. Bass voted for the largest increase in funding for veteran health care.
- Foster Care: Bass works with colleagues to advocate for and develop transformative legislation overhauling the nation's foster care system as well as serve as a key advocacy arm within government for the needs of foster children all across the US.
- International Policy/Foreign Affairs: Supports working with NATO allies and with the UN. Gives significant importance to diplomacy and creating jobs in the US by supporting trade protectionism.

TERM

First Elected: 2013

Term #: 2

Term End: January 3, 2017

SPONSORED LEGISLATION:

Student Loan Fairness Act: Introduced to support more affordable student loan repayment options to increase equal opportunities in higher education and training.

The American Jobs Act of 2011: Co-sponsored by Bass for the purpose of creating a major new jobs package. She also urged Congress to pass it immediately.

Local Hire Act of 2013: Authorizes a state to establish local hiring bid specifications or consider the hiring of local workers in the evaluation of bids and proposals for federal-aid highway projects. Authorizes recipients of federal assistance likewise to establish such specifications or consider local hiring in the evaluation of bids and proposals for public transportation projects.

ECONOMIC AND LABOR:

As the economy continues to grow, Bass will fight for the overburdened middle class and for small business owners of America. Small businesses are the backbone of the American economy, and she will fight to give tax credits to small businesses that hire new employees and restore the flow of credit to small businesses so they can grow and create jobs.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION:

She received her B.A. from Cal-State Dominguez Hills and a certificated degree from the University of Southern California's Medicine Physician Assistant Program. Bass worked as a physician assistant and as a clinical instructor at the USC Keck School of Medicine. She began her political career in the State Assembly, where she served for five years. She was the Majority Floor Leader and then Speaker for her final two years.

PRIORITIES

- Tax Credits for Businesses: Businesses receive tax credits for hiring vets. The vow to Hire Heroes Act was signed into law, meaning that businesses can now receive up to $9,600 in tax credits for hiring an unemployed veteran, depending on how long the veteran has been unemployed.
- Veterans and Jobs: Veterans are given special priority for federal government jobs because of their training and service to their country. This preference applies to all federal agencies, and veterans should ensure that their service record is taken into account when applying to these jobs.

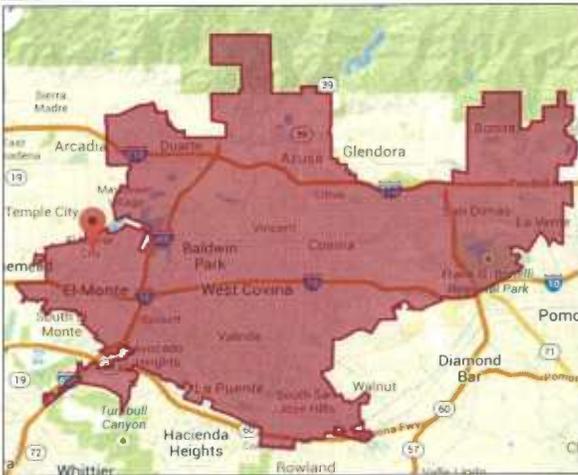

TERM

First Elected: 1999

Term #: 9

Term End: January 3, 2017

SPONSORED LEGISLATION:

Mental Health in Schools Act: This act (1) increases funding for, and expands the scope of the Safe Schools-Healthy Students program in order to provide access to more comprehensive school-based mental health services and supports; (2) provides for comprehensive staff development for school and community service personnel working in schools; and (3) provides for comprehensive training for children with mental health disorders, for parents, siblings, and other family members of such children, and for concerned members of the community.

Paycheck Fairness Act: The legislation twice introduced and twice rejected by the United States Congress to expand the scope of the Equal Pay Act of 1963 and the Fair Labor Standards Act as part of an effort to address male-female income disparity in the United States. A Census Bureau report published in 2008 indicated that women's median annual earnings were 77.5% of men's earnings, a disparity attributed to both systematic discrimination against women and women's lifestyle choices.

ECONOMIC AND LABOR:

The Congresswoman has initiated a Manufacturing Task Force in her district, composed of various small and mid-sized companies. The task force meets as needed to examine key issues and work on strategies that will foster more manufacturing jobs and create a positive climate for manufacturing retention and growth.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION:

Napolitano began her political career as a member of the Norwalk City Council in 1986. In 1989, she was elevated by her council colleagues to serve as Mayor. She was elected to the California State Assembly in 1992 where she stayed until she was termed out in 1998. She has served in Congress since 1999. She is married and has five children.

PRIORITIES

- Economy and Jobs: Raising the minimum wage is critical for thousands of hard working families across Los Angeles County who are trying to support families and find themselves living on the brink of poverty.
- Seniors: Hahn announced that she would vote to oppose the plan to cut, cap and end Medicare, saying it's a false choice and a back door to balancing the budget on the backs of seniors and America's most vulnerable people.
- Education: She will not let educational funding be drastically cut that is vital to helping our most vulnerable and disadvantaged students and students with special needs.
- Healthcare: She is a strong supporter of universal healthcare.
- Transportation: "Making sure Los Angeles and all of California continue to drive American commerce requires proper investment in our infrastructure today, or we might suffer tomorrow,"

TERM

Term End: January 3, 2017

SPONSORED LEGISLATION:

The Fair Minimum Wage Act: If the petition is signed by a majority of congress, it will force the House leadership to consider the legislation on the floor.

Bridge to Jobs Act: Makes funding available to each State to cover all the costs to repair or reconstruct a bridge determined by the Federal Highway Administration to be structurally deficient.

Port Opportunity Reinvestment and Training Act: Authorizes the Secretary of Transportation to establish a program to make grants to ports to enable ports to employ high school students during the summer.

ECONOMIC AND LABOR:

The "Fair Minimum Wage Act" will raise the wages of 25 million Americans and lift more than 1 million Americans out of poverty. Hahn believes that our success as a nation hinges on the success of women. This is why she is proud to sign and discharge petition to raise the federal minimum wage to $10.10 for all hardworking Americans, including mothers and daughters.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION:

Hahn earned a B.S. from Abilene Christian University and was raised in a politically involved family. Her father was the late Kenneth Hahn, a 40 year Los Angeles County Supervisor who started his career in elective politics as a Los Angeles City Councilman. Janice Hahn was first elected to the House in a special election in 2011. Prior to her career in the House, she served in the Los Angeles City Council from 2001 to 2011 and the Los Angeles City Charter Reform Commission from 1997 to 1999.
